Dunn, Taft & Co.

This noted Columbus store occupies some of our spare rooms (columns) this week in presenting their trade. It is a fact, whether or not we like it, that the best customers of Logan and the Valley go to Columbus. To the personal knowledge of the writer, forty thousand dollars every year went through the post office for goods in Columbus. It is claimed that three hundred thousand dollars every year go from Logan and vicinity to Columbus in purchase of goods that ought to be here in Logan.

gan stores. The Columbus merchants come here, they advertise their business. The get our money. Logan business men are asleep.

The firm of Dunn, Taft & Co., whose advertisement appears elsewhere, is a reputable House. It is reputed as being fair dealing, and liberal and accommodating.

Those of our readers who have the disposition to make purchases when in the Capitol City are recommended to give this store a visit.

IN DEATH'S EMBRACE.

Sad Death of Miss Margaret Lytle, Saturday.

Margaret Lytle died at the home of her mother on South Mulberry street Saturday morning after a long and severe illness.

She was a most charming and lovable young lady, and numbered her friends in this city by the score. She was born in Logan, Ohio, 24 years ago. Her entire life has been spent in this town. In school she was bright and industrious. She learned her lessons easily and had much time to assist her associates in their studies. She was not forgetful of the lonely and the sick.

The choicest flowers were never reserved from those whose comfort might be increased by the willing ministry of her hands. These have been returned to her a hundred fold after many days.

She was a joy in her mother's home, and many homes in Logan will be left darker from the absence of the sunshine which her presence always brought. Flowers, words and songs are not sufficient to express the sincere heart-felt regrets, at her early departure.

The funeral services took place from the Methodist church on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. T. B. White officiating, assisted by Rev. J. F. Williams. The Rathbone Sisters, of which order she was an honored member, took charge and conducted the closing services in a beautiful way. The remains were placed in the family vault in the Oak Grove cemetery.

Many and most beautiful were the floral offerings by friends and her sisters in the lodge.

W. R. C. CONVENTION.

The Woman's Relief Corps, auxiliary to the James K. Rochester Post, No. 226, of Logan, entertained the 10th District Convention on Saturday, October 25th.

This district is composed of ten counties, a number of which had representatives present. There were present from a distance about one hundred and thirty. Among this number was State President Mrs. Applebaugh, of Wooster; State I. & L. Officer Miss McLaughlin, of Mansfield; Assistant State Inspector Mrs. Gallagher, also, District President of the 10th District, Miss Dana, of Athens. The convention was held in the newly repaired I. O. O. F. hall.

The convention was quite interesting and instructive to those present, both morning and evening. At 12 o'clock the convention adjourned for dinner, which was served in the G. A. Q. hall by the Logan Corps. At the close of the afternoon session supper was served, after which, the delegates going north left on the 6 p. m. train. Those going south remaining until 10:30.

After supper the Logan Corps with their guests, returned to the I. O. O. F. hall where a reception was held and a pleasant evening spent until train time, when good-byes were said, and we parted to meet next year with our Nelsonville auxiliary.

Fawn K. Speelman was elected District President, and Esther Sanderson District Treasurer.

Below we give the very pleasant welcoming address, by Miss Allie Toole.

Mrs. President, Dear Ladies, Sisters and Friends of the Ladies' Relief Corps: In the name of James K. Rochester Relief Corps, 326, I extend to you a hearty welcome to our city. We are banded together for a great and noble purpose, as becomes the mothers, wives and daughters and friends of the noble army of men who left all that was dearest to them on earth and went to meet danger and death. Their work is our work. With fraternity, charity and loyalty, we go hand in hand, heart in heart with the boys in blue, assisting them in caring for the disabled veterans and their dependent ones. How grateful we ought to feel that we can assist them, and impart courage and comfort to the saddened hearts and burdened lives of those who are left to fight life's battles alone, by words of encouragement and cheer, and gifts of love which help to lighten the burdens, and gladden the hearts of many. How inspiring it is to the noble and earnest workers of the W. R. C. to meet together in these conventions, and hear how the great work is being carried on in the district, state and nation; and your presence here today indicates an interest in and love for the work which will continue as long as there are loyal men and women, to follow the example and take the places of those who drop from the ranks and labors of love. We meet you with glad hearts; we greet you with earnest words; and we extend such a welcome that you may ever feel and know that the members of James K. Rochester Corps are true friends of the soldier and loyal to the cause.

Coal Mine Explosion

AT LOST RUN KILLS THREE MEN.

Gas Came Through the Break From Mine Adjoining.

Three men were killed by an explosion of gas in the Lost Run mine of the Buckeye Coal Company, two miles southeast of New Straitsville, Tuesday morning. They were Maurice O'Brien, miner, Charles Sampson, stable boss, and Herbert Corns, bookkeeper.

The explosion occurred about 8:30 a. m., being accompanied by a dull roar and quaking of the ground which was felt within a radius of several miles. Smoke issued from the mouth of the mine in great volumes and a great excitement prevailed on account of the belief that the mine had taken fire. Later, however, when an exploring party was able to penetrate the mine, no fire was found.

The charred and mangled bodies of the three men were found about one thousand feet from the entrance. How they came in the mine no one knows. It is supposed, however, the three men were exploring the mine. No one was at work there.

It is believed that the gas came from the adjoining mine which had been abandoned for six years. The supposition is that in digging the coal in some place next to the abandoned mine a small opening was made and that the gas poured through this and accumulated during the night. The gas was probably ignited by the lamps which the men carried.

O'Brien leaves a wife and four children. Neither Sampson nor Corns were married.

New Acquaintances, Continued Friends.

During the last campaign we had, for subscribers, over four hundred persons who took the paper on a venture. An experiment to see if it is worth the price we charge for it. More than half of these acquaintances like the relationship and will continue on our list.

It will be our purpose to publish a paper that is interesting, that is Democratic. Its reading matter will be news, and its politics will be Jefferson and Jackson.

The interests of Logan and Hocking county will be advocated and advanced. The business men of our town, who want the patronage of our readers, can have space in our columns at reasonable rates.

We are now permanently located in our rebuilt store, one of the handsomest and best equipped in the country, and call the attention of the Logan people and countryside to the many advantages we offer in merchandising, to all who may come to Columbus to trade or may desire to make their purchases through the medium of a thoroughly recognized Mail Department. One of the distinctive features of our business is the fact that we have but One Price. A mail order to us secures the same attention and you derive the same advantages as would be gained by a personal visit, and if there should be a choice of selection the Absent Buyer is always given the benefit.

Our Silk and Dress Goods Department is one of the most complete in the State. This is a season when a number of the most desirable articles in these lines are very scarce. Fortunately for our patrons, our orders were placed several months ahead of the demand, and as a result we have in stock, full and complete lines of Plaid, Check and Changeable Silks and Velvets, Zebelines and other wool fabrics that very few houses are able to show.

Our Trimmings and Lace Stock!

has no equal in variety of styles and range of prices, from the lowest CALOONS and EDGES to ALL-OVERERS at $5.00 per yard, and real laces at $10.00 per yard.

Table Linens and Bedding.

We display a stock and variety unequalled in Columbus. We do a very large hotel and institution business, enabling us to handle large quantities, thus giving our retail trade the benefit of our extensive purchases.

Our Hosiery, Glove, Underwear, CORSET, INFANT'S WEAR.

It is impossible in one ad to name the many advantages to be found awaiting you in this, the greatest merchandise Mecca of Columbus. The Seeing is the Convincing Part of our story. We extend to you a most hearty invitation to come and personally inspect our stock. The aisles of our store are as free as the air you breathe and over the door is the word "WELCOME."

If you cannot come in person, write us and we will wait on you by letter.
